

What could be done to further build capacity for patients to engage and remain active in research? (limit: 1-3 words)

Why has it been challenging for you to engage diverse voices? (limit: short phrase)

limited knowledge and access silos

Not enough sharing and communicating insufficient outreach

hard to reach diverse patients

Communication

Recruitment challenges

knowing how to identify and access diverse voices

It hasn't been, really.

Why has it been challenging for you to engage diverse voices? (limit: short phrase)

need connections with diverse communities

Time

Patients often have limited capacity to engage knowledge gaps

I am a patient partner and do not engage patient voices at all

Difficult to find patients

Need to go beyond major urban centres

Not meeting patients in their communities linkages

Why has it been challenging for you to engage diverse voices? (limit: short phrase)

recruitment strategies not enough institutional opportunities to involve people what does diverse mean?

Francophones in Ontario are continually being asked.

not enough effort put into engaging these diverse voices not knowing where/how to start unable to free up time from work, not reaching them via electronic media

Lack of time and prioritization

Harder to reach virtually

Why has it been challenging for you to engage diverse voices? (limit: short phrase)

Lack of shared understanding of research processes myths about who can participate as a patient partner

We're doing that analysis. Prelim : huge demand poverty, lack of funding, access to patients we can't meeting person and that is important in some communities.

Exclusionary study design rural and remote silos and knowledge gaps

Recrutement

Why has it been challenging for you to engage diverse voices? (limit: short phrase)

community members may not know why they would be interested in research

Relationships with diverse needs to be done group to group.